

Kaymbu Parent Consent Form

Dear Parent,

We are working with Kaymbu, a company out of MIT that offers an exciting new technology to help parents stay connected with their children's development in school.

Teachers will be capturing pictures, videos and notes in the classroom using a dedicated school iPad. This media will be organized and shared with you via email throughout the week.

Please be assured that all information and media collected is private and securely stored, used only for classroom documentation and parent communication. It will not be shared publicly, published, or used for any other purpose.

We are continually evaluating new ways to improve our programs and deliver the best possible experience for you and your children. Please help us by allowing us to implement this exciting new technology in your child's classroom!
